

ETHICS TRAINING - COURSE INFORMATION

Ethics First

OUR FLAGSHIP ETHICS COURSE, ETHICS FIRST, is a positive and engaging introduction to ethics and its permeation in the business field. It is intended for the entire workforce, from employees to managers. The course defines ethics in the context of classical and moral theories of today, before linking the field to business now. Integrated with your organization's values and ethics code, everyone participates in ethical decision making with real-life scenarios. If applicable, the course also incorporates your ethics hotline and supporting material. As a result of the Ethics First training course, your workforce will learn to keep ethics at the forefront in day-to-day activities, gain greater awareness of ethical responsibility, and understand the ethics resources available to them. The Ethics First course is lead by a certified trainer, and is adapted for specific industries including city-government, healthcare and non-profit. Typical length is 4 hours. $549 per session plus trainer travel expenses.
